Game Highlights:

On a beautiful night at Testa Park, The Nationals and Reds faced each other for the third time of the season. The Reds were able to take the first two contests from the Nationals, but the Nats proved too pesky tonight. The Nationals plated two runs in the first to take the early lead, but the Reds came back with a huge four run first inning plating off of four consecutive hits Xanden Preston, Liam Madden, Miles Bacigalupi, and Andrew Barber. But the Nats answered in the 2nd inning and were able to score runs in every inning except for the sixth. Following the eventful first inning, Tyler Hanson of the Nationals found his rhythm on the mound. He displayed remarkable composure, striking out three consecutive batters in the second inning and stifling the Reds' offense. Hanson continued his efficient performance, allowing just one more run. Trailing by six runs heading into their final at-bat, the Reds refused to surrender. Andrew Barber kickstarted their rally with a leadoff home run over the right fielder's head, igniting the crowd and infusing his team with renewed energy. The Reds capitalized on a hit and a few defensive miscues from the Nationals, adding three more runs to their tally. However, despite their valiant efforts, the Nationals managed to hold on to their lead, sealing the game with a nerve-wracking final out and the Reds' go-ahead run at the plate.
